Some of my critics may argue that I am a one-dimensional storyteller, often resorting to tales from my time alongside Colonel Churchward and his Royal Rangers.
However, this recurring theme stems from a recent discovery made by my employers at the WWWG Plantation.
They unearthed one of my long-lost steamer trunks while clearing out a storage shed, and to my surprise, it contained illustrations from one of my earliest expeditions. This journey was significant as it involved uncovering a hidden collection of books that had been taken from the Grand Hall of Records before its tragic destruction by the marauding bands that accompanied the First Emperor.

I vividly remember the collection, particularly the old monk's assertion that this book, despite being penned in a long-extinct language, was linked to the last longboats that escaped the cataclysmic end of Atlantis, or so he believed.

This revelation prompted the Lone Palm Ferry Casino to invite me to curate a selection of my long-lost illustrations for a mini-gallery at their famed "History Mall."

It is unfortunate that these ancient texts remain completely untranslatable, even by the most advanced AI Quantum Computers. Unlocking their secrets could lead to groundbreaking historical revelations.
Without a second thought, my critics would undoubtedly seize the chance to scrutinize this Atlantean Journal, dragging it into a protracted debate that could extend well into the next century, especially with continued funding from the discredited WEF Goonie affiliates.

These WEF Goonies are the same individuals who championed Ahriman's harsh agenda of "You will own nothing, be silent, and find happiness in consuming genetically modified insects," and despite their war crimes, they remain emblematic of a troubling new era marked by collapse of Ahriman's New Social Reset Revolution.

I am thrilled to announce that I have successfully regained legal custody of my illustrated copies, which I painstakingly created from the original books and scrolls housed in the Hall of Records.

These invaluable texts were recently unearthed from a damp, moldy steamer trunk tucked away in a soon-to-be-discarded storage shed behind the WWWG Plantation and Print Shop's main corporate bunker in Singapore.
It is with great pride that I invite you to explore a selection of these rediscovered volumes, generously showcased by the renowned
